INFLAMED BY EXECUTION

Captain Charles Fryatt Ordered to Be Shot By Germans

EMPEROR'S APPROVAL

Commander of Merchantman Was Put to Death for Alleged Attempt to Ram Submarine

London, July 29.— That Kaiser Wilhelm himself confirmed the sentence of death found by a court-martial trying Capt. Fryatt, of the passenger liner Brussels, for his attempt to ram a submarine, was reported in a Maastricht dispatch here today.

It served further to inflame British feeling against what press and public alike branded as surpassing the execution of Miss Cavell, the British nurse, in cold-blooded feroity.

The Maastricht dispatch asserted the Duke of Wurtemburg wired the sentence of death pronounced by the naval court-martial at Zeebrugge on Fryatt to imperial headquarters, asking for confirmation.

The war council, it was stated, granted this confirmation at once, all its members, including the Kaiser and Gen. Erich von Falkenhayn, former war minister, agreeing on the justice of the death sentence.

Berlin, July 29—Capt. Charles Fryatt, of the Great Eastern Railway steamship Brussels, which vessel was captured by German destroyers last month and taken into Zeebrugge, has been executed by shooting after a trial before a German naval court-martial. The death sentence was passed upon Captain Fryatt because of his alleged action in attempting previously to ram a German submarine.

Testimony was presented at the court-martial to show that, while Captain Fryatt did not belong to the armed forces, he had attempted on March 28, 1915, while near the Maas lightship, to ram the German submarine U-33.

Captain Fryatt, the first officer and the first engineer of the Brussels, received from the British Admiralty gold watches for "brave conduct," and were mentioned in the House of Commons.

The submarine U-33, according to the official account of the trial, had signaled to the British steamer to show her flag and to stop, but Captain Fryatt did not heed, and, it is alleged, turned at high speed toward the submarine, which escaped only by diving immediately several yards below the surface. Captain Fryatt the official statement says admitted that he had followed the instructions of the British Admiralty.

Sentence was confirmed and the captain was executed and shot for a "franctireur crime against arm(German sea forces."

The trial was held at Brages, Brussels, Thursday.

London, July 29—News of the execution of Captain Fryatt, of the British steamer Brussels, caused a painful impression at the British Foreign Office. Under the instructions of Viscount Grey, the Foreign Secretary, a note was dispatched immediately to the American Embassy requesting that James W. Gerard, the American Ambassador at Berlin, procure complete details of the affair.

The first intimation of the trial of Captain Fryatt was called to the attention of the Foreign Office by press reports on July 18 to the effect that he was to be tried as the result of finding on him a watch containing an inscription reciting his efforts to ram a German submarine.

From inquiries made of the owners of the steamship Wrexham, which Captain Fryatt commanded when the alleged incident took place, the Foreign Office learned the captain had with him neither a watch nor letter to the effect that he had attempted to ram a submarine when he was captured. Therefore, officials here state the charge must have been passed on press reports.

When the news that Captain Fryatt was to be tried was received, the Foreign Office immediately sent a note to the American Ambassador, Walter H. Page, requesting that American diplomatic representatives take all necessary steps to provide for his defense, calling attention to the fact that the Wrexham's act in steering toward the submarine and forcing her to dive was essentially defensive, and precisely the same as if she had used the defensive arm which the United States and Great Britain hold to be an undoubted right.

No repily was received from Ambassador Gerard, but the Foreign Office is convinced he acted with his usual promptitude. Therefore it is their theory that the trial and execution of Captain Fryatt was hurried even more so than in the case of Miss Edith Cavell. Besides the original inquiry the Foreign Office sent two other notes on the subject to Ambassador Gerard.

AUTOMOBILING IS FAVORITE.

Alexandria's Residents Purchasing Cars and Daily Enjoying Summer Motoring.

New automobiles are being purchased daily in Alexandria and the membership list of the Alexandria Automobile Club is growing continuously. Motoring seems to be the most popular enjoyment of that portion of the city's population that are car owners and there seems to be good reason for this, for in the hot weather nothing is more enjoyable than to speed out against a cooling breeze in an easily operated machine.

Virginia's share of the federal appropriation for good roads, according to announcement in that section of the Gazette dealing with news of the Old Dominion recently, is just a little under $100,000, and the commonwealth will soon get to work in improving some of its bad roads and macadamizing others.

This has been done to a number of roads in the state and there are some whose equal cannot be found anywhere else in the country. There are a number, however, that are possessed of some of the most objectionable features to motorists, farmers, and the general public conceivable, and possibly the worst of these is the quagmire in Prince William county, which is the only unforged link in the smooth highway connecting cities in Maine to Miami, Fla., and which spoils the beautiful highway from Washington to the city of Richmond.

It is expected that soon this bad stretch of road, which is the nightmare of every automobilist passing through this part of the country, will be wiped out and will shortly be only a blot on the memory. It is hoped that this work is done as soon as possible.

LONGUEVAL HELD BY THE BRITISH

War Office Announces Capture of Last Stronghold There

HOLD DELVILLE WOOD

Hand-to-Hand Fighting Still Continues in the Neighborhood of the City of Pozieres

London, July 29—The last German strongholds in Longueval have been captured by the British troops, according to the official statement given out by the War Office. Hand-to-hand fighting continued throughout yesterday in the vicinity of Pozieres, the statement adds.

British troops have captured Deville Wood in its entirety, a British official statement announced yesterday. This German position in the Somme region had been defended by the Brandenburg division, which was driven out.

Paris, July 29—An attack by the Germans against French positions south of Sante Marie Pass, in the Vosges, resulted in their gaining a lodgment in the advanced French trenches, says the official statement. The statement adds, however, that later the Germans were driven out with the bayonet.

Progress for the French on the right bank of the Meuse is reported.

WHEREABOUTS OF BREMEN

German Undersea Boat Said to Have Been Captured by British.

Paris, July 29.—That the Bremen, the second German merchantile submarine to try running the allies' blockade to American ports, has been captured by a British cruiser is the news brought to Paris by persons of unquestionable reliability who have crossed the English Channel from London. By one of these arrivals it is reported that the Bremen was captured by a British cruiser in the North Sea, and is now safely moored in English waters. The Bremen, according to one man who is believed to have gained his information from a quarter close to the British government, and who has just arrived in France, was captured in the North Sea on the night of July 19. The Bremen, he said, came to the surface within a few hundred feet of a British cruiser, and had absolutely no chance to make her escape or even submerge before her presence was taken advantage of by the British fleet on patrol duty.

Ottawa, Ontario, July 29.— The naval department denies that there is an foundation for the report that the German supersubmarine Bremen has been captured and taken into Halifax.

Boston, Mass., July 29.— Capt. Frank B. Howarth, of the Cretic, of the White Star Line, which arrived here yesterday from Mediterranean ports, declared that from information which he has received from an authoritative source, he understood that a merchant submarine which preceded the Deutschland had been captured aind taken to England and that the Bremen was at the same place.

AT THE CHURCHES

Topics to be Discussed in the City Pulpits Tomorrow.

Pastors of the various churches in the city are earnestly requested to co-operate with the Gazette in making its Saturday church column as accurate as possible and in giving complete religious news of Alexandria. The Gazette welcomes announcement of subpjects for the Sunday sermons, statements regarding the services, and items of interest in the parish work of any church in this city and will gladly publish same. Sometimes mistakes are made, but we feel that if the pastors will co-operate with us in making the Saturday church news what it should be, these would be few and far between.

A plan which the Gazette wishes the ministers of the city would follow, in that it avoids delays and inaccuracy in telephone messages, is to send down items for the church columns as early as possible Saturday morning, as the column has to be complete before noon.

Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, has arranged with the Presbyterian Committee in Richmond to publish at an early date a book containing his sermons and addesses called "Vital Truths," He will preach tomorrow morning and evening and leave for his vacation next week at Wytheville, Va.

Dr. Allison has a state-wide reputation as a powerful and convincing speaker and the publication of his book is awaited eagerly by his many friends in this city.

"The Relation of Every Believer to Christ," will be the subject of the sermon tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Charles F. Brandt, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church. Dr. Brandt will take for his text, Luke 9, 18-26. Friends and members are cordially invited to attend.

At the Methodist Protestant Church tomorrow morning at the 11 a. m. service, the pastor the Rev. Edward T. Kirkley, will preach on the subject, "The Conciousness of the Soul," and at 8 p. m. his subject will be, "The Life of Elisha." Milton Penn will lead the Christian Endeavor meeting at 7:15 p. m.

Rev. W. H. Van Ness, who, according to announcement in the Gazette yesterday, is in attendance at the annual camp meeting of the Philadelphia district, New York conference, of the Free Methodist Church at Savage, Md., will return to this city in time to occupy his pulpit at the Free Methodist Church Sunday, August 1.

VIRGINIANS SHOW WORTH

Detachment Now Guarding International Bridge at Border

WANT MORE RECRUITS

Colonel Perry, of the First Regiment Tells General Sale of Conditions at Front

Richmond, July 29—That the virginia troops are giving a good account of themselves on the border is borne out by advices received by General Sale from Colonel W. J. Perry, commanding officer of the First Virginia Regiment, in camp at Brownsville, Texas. A detachment of troops from the machine gun company, he writes, have been assigned to duty at the International Bridge between Brownsville and Matamoros, Mex., the first soldiers from the National Guard to be called for such important duty, except a detail of Illinois Cavalry, which has been on the border for some time.

Colonel Perry states that their work has been considerably handicapped because a large number of his men have been given various guard duties, which keeps them away from the duties of their companies. Their places are in need of being rapidly filled, and recruits are wanted in any number. Every facility is ready to handle the men without difficulty.

Now, it is pointed out, is the time for enlistment if men want to go to the border. The need exists, and all recruits will be sent there promptly to fill the companies that are not up to the desired strength. There never was a better opportunity to get service on the border.

General Sale is also in receipt of a letter from Brigadier-General Parker, United States Army, to whose command the Virginia troops have been attached, congratulating him on the excellent showing made by the men, and stating that he was very glad to have them. Detachments from the Virginia Regiments are greatly favored, being given some of the most important duties. Virginia troops are guarding the First National Bank in which the government has a half million dollars, and are standing by other posts that require the utmost vigilance and care.

Russian Forces in Galicia Now Only Fifty-three Miles From City of Lemberg.

Petrograd, July 29—The Russians have occupied the important railroad junction of Brody, 48 miles northeast of Lemberg, in Galicia; broken through the entire first line of the Teutonic allies west of Lutsk, and driven the Austro-German forces from the line of the Rivers Slenevka and Boklurovka, Southern Volhynia, according to the official communication issued by the War Office.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Austro-Germans. More than 9,000 men were taken prisoners and a large number of guns were captured.

London, July 29—While the battle of the Somme is continuing with methodical success for the British forces the Russians are able to announce another important victory in the capture of Brody. This Galician town, 58 miles northeast of Lemberg, is a great railway junction, and it has been expected the Austrians would retain it at all costs. The swiftness of this new Russian stroke was unexpected and may lead to the capture of Lemberg itself.

The fall of Brody is a serious threat to Lemberg and the rapid and successful advance of General Sakkharoff's forces menace the whole Austro-German lines of communications from the north to the south.

For the present, Kovel yields in importance to Lemberg. The positions on this portion of the Russian front seems to be that General Kaledinos, having driven General von Linsingen's left wing behind the Stokrod river, has suspended his advance toward Kovel and is holding up the great Teutonic forces there while General Sakharoff is pressing on toward Lemberg, which is defended by the forces of General Boehm-Ermolli.

Petrograd correspondents attribute the successes over the Austro-Germans almost entirely to the overwhelming superiority of the Russian artillery and Russian's apparently endless supplies of ammunition.

Edward L. Daingerfield has transferred to the Alexandria Hospital three frame houses on the north side of Duke street, between Columbus and Washington.

SPRING RECALLS DUEL

Two Young Men Fight Over a Woman Near Alexandria Many Years Ago

St. Mary's Catholic Church recent parish outing to Snowden's station, on the grounds of the old Collingwood Club, which was given for the benefit of the parochial school improvement fund, reminds us of a not very widely known bit of history attached to the old beach at Collingwood and especially to the spring about a half mile or so up the beach from the small pier which used to be stationed in the water in front of the club.

Long before the days of the Mexican War, a young man named Bowie, whose Christian name cannot be recalled at present, resided directly across the river from Collingwood beach, and a few years before the outbreak of the war fought his first duel on the site of the spring at Collingwood directly across the river from his home. Duels were a common occurrence in those days, being considered the only proper way for a gentleman to settle his quarrels, for politics, love, or otherwise, and it is supposed that young Bowie quarreled with his equally young opponent over a young girl. The date of the combat was set and the place fixed upon near the old spring, running down into the river from a slope facing the old beach.

Here the two young men met, minus second, witnesses, and everything but the pistols, with which the duel was to be fought. On the first shot fired, young Bowie killed his rival, and, so the story runs, the latter, when struck, fell directly across the spring dead, his blood trickling from his wound into the waters of the spring and running with them into the river.

Later Bowie fought in the Mexican War in 1846-1848 and was one of the most gallant of Uncle Sam's heroes at the Alamo, where occurred probably the fiercest, yet most romantic, battle of the two years' war, and where Sam Sauston, famous in the history of the "Lone Star State," won praise for his heroic valor and a title as general in the army of the United States. Young Bowie here was advanced to a high place in the service as a reward for his achievements and was known as one of the bravest men in the forces of this country.

Such reminiscences as the above crop out occasionally, expecially when any special event takes place on a historic site. Little did the merrymakers on the picnic Thursday, as they romped through the woods and on the river shore and as they quenched their thirst with the bracing waters of the old spring, realize that here had taken place one of the fiercest duels of the times in olden days in which the winner was later declared to be one of the bravest of America's heroes.

WITHDRAWS APPEAL.

Question of Sale of Soda Water and Ice Cream on Sundays Remains Undecided

The appeal of J. Reece Caton from a decision of the police court which in the month of June imposed a fine of $5 upon him for selling cigars and soda water on Sunday contrary to the provisions of the Sabbath law which is now being enforced by the ouster law which passed the last legislature, has practically been settled, and it is not expected that there will be a decision by the court upon this question of what can and what cannot be sold on Sunday. Mr. Caton, through his attorney, Leo P. Harlow, has withdrawn his appeal, so far as the sale of cigars and cigarettes in concerned, and has paid the fine of $5 imposed by the lower court. This leaves the question of the sale of soda water and soft drinks in abeyance, and it is not thought that this question will be raised in the near future.

It is understood that permission has been granted to the bootblacks of the city to shine shoes until noon on Sunday.

WORK ON NEW HOSPITAL

Cornerstone of Large Structure Will Be Placed in Position in Near Future

Work is steadily progressing on the erection of the foundation for Alexandria's new hospital, ground for the construction of which was recently broken. The contracting firm, Richardson and Burgess, prominent Washington builders, are widely known for the excellence of their work and the speed with which they execute their contracts, and it is expected that within a short time the cornerstone will be ready to be laid. Certain it is, anyway, that the new structure will be ready for occupancy at an early date next spring.

A large force of workmen are engaged in putting up the foundation walls and the work is steadily taking on larger proportions. It will not be long now before the hopes of Alexandria for the erection of a modern hospital, which were recently revived by the awarding of the contract and the breaking of the ground, will be realized in full.

PERSONAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Moran, of Kingston, Pa., announce the marriage to their daughter, Anna L., to Charles E. Corgan, one of Alexandria's best known attorneys. The wedding took place last Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock at Kingston in St. Ignatius' Catholic Church, and the rites were celebrated by a nuptial mass, the ceremony being performed by Rev. M. E. Corgan, brother of the groom. Attending the couple were Miss Kathryin Moran, sister of the bride, and Dr. Joseph Corgan, of Detroit, Mich., After a wedding trip through Delaware Water Gap and the New England States, the young couple will reside in this city.

O. P. Angelo, of this city called at this office yesterday afternoon with a small model of a recently improved patent switch for railroads, which seems to be one of the best inventions of its kind on the market, as it not only eliminates the dangerous frog and split switch, but greatly reduces railroad expenses, and lessens the causes of accidents and wrecks on the railroads.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett has returned to her home in this city after a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Charles Poser, at St. Andrews-by-the-sea, New Brunswick, and a trip straight through this city to Staunton, where she spoke at the convention of the Virginia Press Association. Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Barrett have also returned from Staunton, where they attended the convention.

Miss Ruth Watkins and William L. Watkins, accompanied by Miss Ann Walker, and Lewis Walker, of Culpeper, Va., have returned from a tour of the West, visiting the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Denver.

Mrs. Harry Beverley and wo young sons, Marshall and Carter, left today for Warrenton, Fauquier county, to spend several weeks.

Miss Genevieve Goode and Miss Hazel Farmer are visiting friends in Strasburg, Va.

Albert V. Bryan returned today from a two-weeks' stay at Woodberry Forest, Va.

Miss Hilda Hall, of Hagerstown, Md., is the guest of Miss Lillian Hall in this city.

GOSPEL TENT SERVICES

Evangelist Gibson took for his text last night Malachi vi., 5-6—"Behold I will send you Elijah (Elias) the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord; and he shall turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse."

The speaker said this forecast was fulfilled in the first advent message of John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea. He also averred that the prophecy was being fulfilled at this time in the second advent movement which he said is sweeping over the world, preparing the people for the second coming of Christ and the end of the world. He said that Seventh Day Adventists only are preaching this truth.

The subject for tomorrow (Sunday) night will be "The World's Conversion." There will be special music by the choir on this occasion.

ELIJAH THE TISHBITE.

The evangelist at the gospel tent on north Washington street last night delivered a discourse upon "Elijah the Prophet." We did not hear the address; hence do not know what particular line of thought he followed, but upon reading the title of his subject it brought to mind certain ideas, some real and others visionary, concerning the mysterious Tishbite who sprang up so suddenly in the days of Ahab and Jezebel and foretold a famine when no rain would fall in Israel for three years and six months. His career, though brief, was marvelous, and his translation is one of the most thrilling incidents in sacred history.

We are not about to deliver a sermon. Such would be out of place here, but, as we said at the beginning, the subject of the evangelist is interesting and affords food for thought in these restive times, when so many earnest people are giving heed to the contents of a book long neglected, and with which so few, including many who attend churches, are unacquainted.

The last chapter of the Old Testament, the book of Malachi, tells us that Elijah is to reappear in Israel at some time and that he will turn the hearts of the children to the fathers and vice versa, playing an important part in restoring the Jews to their previous standing with Jehovah.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact, that Israelites (that is the orthodox element) have always believed this forecast, taking it literally; hence the query put to the Saviour by his disciples, "Why say the scribes that Elias must first come?" was pertinent. The reply is significant: "Elias truly cometh and restoreth all things." The angel Gabriel told Zacharias that his son John would go forth in the spirit and power of Elias.

Among the Jews in Europe the expectation of the reappearance of Elijah has ever been anticipated. Following the custom in vogue in the days of Christ, they believe he will come at one of the anniversaries of the Passover feast.

The company stands on this occasion, often with their staves in their hands, wearing their hats and give every indication of being about to start upon a journey. The edibles for the feast having been placed upon the table, the host fills a large cup with wine and walks to the front door, which he opens. All stand in silence, hoping the great prophet will enter. The cup of wine is for him. After a certain time the door is closed and the feast begins.

It was doubtless a large cup which had been filled for Elijah that the Author of the Christian faith picked up and handed around to his disciples from which He commanded them to drink until He reappears.

MILITARISM IN DEATH THROES.

An expert on the war in Europe says: Militarism is in its death throes as the second year of the war closes. It is fighting on the defensive and is approaching inevitable surrender. The allies have demonstrated that they must continue the conflict indefinitely to defeat the militarists of Germany. There are signs that the German people are realizing this fact, and to save their empire eventually will refuse to accept the policies of professional soldiers. This is the main result of Europe's two years of warfare; Germany will survive the war, but Prussian militarism will not.

As the conflict enters upon its third year, the German civilians will assume greater and greater importance in the German empire. When their influence becomes sufficiently dominant to overbear the militarists, the war will end. Thus, the war in its third year will take on an entirely new aspect. Victories, in the old sense, are no longer necessary to success.

"Three great nations are now at work killing Germans. The Germans are slaughtering in return, but the losses of the allies are divided among British, French and Russians. The losses inflicted by the three allies fall upon the Germans exclusively, except along a small part of the eastern front, where the Austro-Hungarians are making a stand. It would take a long time to kill off enough Germans to compel the Teutons to retreat to their frontiers on all sides. This is not to be looked for. It is the killing that counts, while ever more and more food tickets are being issued at home.

No country on short rations can continue the strain indefinitely of sending its men against the machine guns of three enemies at once in a permanently defensive campaign. For a long time Germany's heavy casualties were borne with fortitude, and in fact, with pride, because her armies were winning successes in east and west. Now, however, the possibility of gaining further field successes which can have any serious meaning for Germany has vanished. Hereafter, certainly two and possibly three Germans are destined to fall for each single casualty in the ranks of anyone of the three nations that are attacking the German fronts. These are the facts that point to the coming collapse of Prussian militarism. The diplomats of the allies have assisted in the work by announcing they have no desire to crush Germany. The militarists, therefore, are unable to urge their conquering ideals upon civilian public opinion as the only alternative to the blotting out of the German nation. How soon the inevitable overthrow of the militarists will happen cannot be foretold.

The gradual seizure of power in Berlin will be the most important factor to watch in all the belligerent nations, during the third year of the war. It is destined to bring the war to an end on the grave of Prussian militarism, after which it may begin the creation of a new Germany for the future.

IS THE KAISER RESPONSIBLE?

A contemporary suggests that a certain amount of nervous perturbation may be excused in one filling the position of the German Emperor but the kind of utterances that he is indulging should cause the responsible German officials to bring all pressure to bear upon him to retire from the front and go into seclusion for awhile, as he is evidently in need of sanatorium treatment.

The prediction of the Kaiser that the victory of Germany will lead to war after war is an intolerable affront to the pacific sentiment of humanity and an outrage of the rights of the masses of the people to be preserved from the wild war indulgence of their ruler. Nor is the objectionableness of the language lessened by the frantic hate charges against Germany's enemies that are indulged in the letter of the Kaiser that is given Berlin circulation. Reading such expressions as this, the neutral world must be convinced that now the fight of the Germans is a fight to save a dynasty, and that this is the direct intent of the head of the German state. No other supposition appears tenable from the speech itself. It needs rebuke not in the interest of the Allies, but in behalf of the German people and the masses of the populations of all lands. It is because of such wild expressions that insecurity is felt, even in this country, and this nation has to make appropriations of more than a half a billion of dollars in time of peace.

The most indulgent view is that the Kaiser, presented by a set of circumstances affecting both the military and civil populations of his empire, that are of unprecedented peril, is breaking down under the stress. It is no wonder that efforts have been made to keep his speeches from type in Berlin, this action leading to an inquiry in the Reichstag as to the reason for such a course. The United States will be found to have something to say about the future peace of the world and its voice will be emphatic.

PROPER RESPECT FOR OFFICALS.

The Administrative Board of Richmond is piqued at Justice Crutchfield, the members of the body alleging that they are not treated with the respect due them by his honor during the investigation of cases brought before his court. They have requested the Mayor to admonish the Justice. A Richmond paper in its observation on the course of the administrative board says:

"However, lacking in wisdom and prudence policemen may be, the Police Court is not the place for open jeering at and making light of them and their duties. The Police Court is generally filled with those whom policemen have haled into court. If officers are offensively ridiculed before these persons, the law they represent is also ridiculed, and the effect extends far beyond the walls of the Police Court."

The above tells the story in a few words. In this land of the free and home of the brave too many people presume that they should be allowed to run Police Courts. Policemen are sometimes treated with less respect than bootblacks or newspaper boys by complainants and defendants, and by such procedures they are rendered cheap in the eyes of the audiences.

A policeman while testifying in a Police Court is not only a witness, but in a sense an officer of the court. It is the duty of the presiding justice to protect him, not only from the contempt of complainants and defendants but also from attorneys, should they thoughtlessly go beyond bounds in their cross-questioning and observations.

A Republican mass meeting, the largest since the opening of Taft's campaign, was held at Danville last night to elect four delegates and alternates to the Rocky Mount convention on August 3. The meeting was stormy, W. E. Weizener objecting to alleged steam-roller methods. Counter-charges were brought by members of the nominating committee and pandemonium reigned. Weizener stated that the Republican party in Danville was dead and that it was being supplanted by the Socialists.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Alexandria people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case:

William L. Nalls, 534 S. Patrick street, Alexandria, says: "My back ached all the time and the pains through my loins were so severe that I thought they would kill me. My kidneys were congested and the kidney secretions caused me much annoyance. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Summer's Drug Store, I was relieved of that misery in my back after I had taken a few doses. Since using three boxes, my kidneys have been in good condition and my back has never caused me any trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Wm. L. Nalls had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

APPAM NOT A PRIZE

Judge Waddill Holds Germans Lost Control by Bringing Her Into U. S.

Norfolk, Va., July 29—Federal Judge Waddill today decided the libel proceedings for possession of the captured British merchantman Appam in favor of the English owners and against the German prize crew which brough her here.

The German government lost all legal claim to the Appam and her cargo as prizes of war when Lieut. Berg and his prize crew on last February brought them into the neutral waters of Hampton roads with the intention of "laying up" the vessel indefinitely.

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL

American League

The Nationals dropped the fourth game of the series to the Tigers yesterday and went into sixth place, one full game behind the Tigers, who now occupy fifth as a result of yesterday's victory.

New York and Boston both won, being the only Eastern clubs to do so, and are still separated by one-half a game. The Indians and the White Sox being the two clubs defeated by the Red Sox and the Yanks, a wider margin is placed between the latter and former pair. Detroit is only one and a half games behind Chicago now.

New York and Boston are both playing at a pretty nifty clip, and the Red Sox are trying hard to oust the former from the lead, but it looks as if that is a hard thing to do, the way the Yanks are playing now.

Washington is proving a little disappointing to the Captial City and Alexandria fans, as it was expected she would make a better showing on this invasion of the west than she did on the last invasion, Her first series has already been a total loss to her.

Scores of yesterday follow:
Detroit, 3; Washington, 0.

New York, 5; Chicago, 3.
St. Louis, 8; Athletics, 6.

One change occurred in the standing of the National League clubs yesterday, that being the ousting of the Chicago Cubs from fourth place by the New York Giants, owing to a victory for the latter and a defeat for the former. Phillies and Braves, which were expected to change places yesterday, still maintain the same positions, both winning their games. Brooklyn Dodgers also won, thereby keeping the same distance between themselves and the Braves and Phillies.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

Cardinals to Battle Eagles While the White Sox Take on Clarendon

Cardinals battle the Eagles, who are leading in the club standing for the series for the amateur baseball championship of northern Virginia, tomorrow at the Cardinal diamond at the head of King street. The game is scheduled to take place at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the largest crowd of fans who ever attended a baseball game in this city is expected to be present to witness the fray, which will be a fight to the finish between these two clubs.

Sweeney will in all probability do the twirling honors for the Cardinals while it is likely that the Eagles will send "Lefty" White to the mound. Both these pitchers are in fine fettle now, but still it is hardly likely that the game will be of scant hit variety, for both teams have sluggers primed for the contest who are anxious to send runs across the plate. Tomorrow's game holds forth a lot of interest.

While the Eagles and Cardinals are battling in the western section of the city, down in the extreme southeastern part of the Cove grounds, a lively fray is slated between the Alexandria County Athletic Association nine and the White Sox. The latter to date have lost the two games they have played in the title series but nevertheless have made up their minds to capture this game if the spirit with which they will enter the contest can avail them of victory.

Clarendon is as equally determined to go back to their home town with a victory to their credit, so this game will be about as interesting as the one on King street, although the fans will possibly turn out in large numbers to see the Eagles, series leaders, play.

Monday's Gazette will give interesting accounts of both games. Watch for the dope on the series.

PLANNING FOR RACES

Boat Club in Training for Features of August Celebration— Much Interest Displayed

Two weeks from today what will be one of the most interesting events in sporting circles of this city will take place at the boat house of the Old Dominion Boat Club, when that well-known and long-standing organization will stage a joint celebration and reception to be replete with aquatic feats of every variety.

Much interest is being manifested in working up the plans for the different events on the program for August 2, and the different coaches under the direction of Captain Carl Mueller, are working hard in training the crews that will sit in the different shells. A number of interesting races are slated for the occasion and it is expected that a lot of good material will be seen in action by the guests that will be especially invited to attend.

The boat club expects to enter several regattas this season and will enter crews both from the senior membership and the membership under eighteen years of age for the different events scheduled.

Beside the program of races, diving and swimming contests, as announced in a recent issue of the Gazette, which carried the first account of the celebration, will be a feature of the occasion.

Refreshments will be served in the evening, the celebration being slated to last from four until eight p. m.

Several members of the boat club are busily at work collecting data on the history of the organization, and arrangement has been made by the Gazette to publish its complete history, this famous old institution being one of long standing in the community.
